Why Not Elizabeth Way?

This is Coronation year and, in our opinion, Kelowna should take some concrete step to permanently mark this year during which Our Gracious and Beloved Sovereign is crowned.

One simple yet very effective way to do this is to give one of our main streets some appropriate name, linking it with the Queen herself or the Coronation. A street so named would be a constant reminder that in this year of grace, the people of this city had unbounded admiration and deep affection for the young woman who sits upon our throne.

Kelowna has what is probably the finest street in the interior of this province. Indeed a street which can be duplicated in few, if any, small cities in this country. It is one of our main thoroughfares and one which almost every visitor to the city uses. Yet it goes by the very prosaic name of Mill Avenue.

This street forms an L and there would seem to be no real reason why the stem of the L which runs from the ferry slip to Ellis Street could not be renamed. It is true, of course, that there is a certain historical significance to the name Mill Avenue; but this could be retained by still using it to designate that portion of the street which now extends from the ferry slip to Bernard Avenue, the present base of the L.

This street could be renamed with little cost. In fact, just about the only cost would be the purchase of a dozen street signs by the city.

A suitable name should not be hard to find. "Elizabeth Way" or "Queen Elizabeth Way," "Coronation Boulevard," "Queen's Mall" — these are but a few which come to mind. Any one of these, or a score of others would be suitable and would add dignity and prestige to this fine street. Moreover, as stated before, it would be a fitting and lasting record of the pride this city feels in our young Queen. It would be a unique action, although it would be one which probably would be followed by other cities, once any suggested action on Kelowna's part became noised abroad.

The Courier earnestly suggests that the City Council should consider renaming the main section of the present Mill Avenue. A committee to select a suitable name could be appointed and a short renaming ceremony could be held as part of our Coronation celebration on June 2nd. The suggestion is simple and inexpensive, yet it would give a new dignity to this important street and cause many comments among residents and visitors for many years to come.

Politics momentarily forgotten

British Columbia may be in the midst of an election, but when candidates are not on the platform, they are inclined to be affable regardless of party affiliation. And they even go so far as to wish one another the best of luck.

Such was the case in the lounge of the Royal Anne Hotel yesterday afternoon. Progressive Conservative party leader Deane Finlayson, ran smack into Mrs. Nancy Hodges, prominent Liberal, and former speaker of the legislature. Liberal campaign manager for South Okanagan, Bob Hayman, almost stumbled over Mrs. E. C. Weddell, local Pro Con candidate.

Mr. Finlayson was about to address a luncheon meeting in the hotel, and Mrs. Hodges was about to have lunch with several party stalwarts before addressing an afternoon meeting.

Politics were momentarily forgotten when Mrs. Hodges and Mr. Finlayson came face to face for the first time during the current campaign. Before leaving they shook hands and wished one another success at the polls.

Sacred gov't has been inviting defeat since elected, says Mrs. Nancy Hodges

"The Bennett government has been inviting defeat almost since the day it came into power and because the opposition side of the House would not give it the opportunity it was looking for, in the past year I have witnessed a behavior in the government such as I have never seen in my 12 years in the House and in my 25 years' association with the party."

So declared Mrs. Nancy Hodges in an address given to a large gathering at the Yacht Club yesterday afternoon in support of Victor Wilson, Liberal candidate for the South Okanagan riding.

"The Sacred finally met defeat when they brought out the Rolston Formula," she said, "adding the educational system. The bill did not take into consideration the rising operating costs, due to increases in teachers' salaries, in building supplies, school supplies and in the increasing population of our young province."

Because the formula proposes that the 1952 school budget of all

Four Candidates Will Contest S. Okanagan In June 9 Vote; Mrs. E.C. Weddell Enters Fight

SURPRISE entry of the wife of a prominent Kelowna barrister in the election ring has assured a four-way fight in South Okanagan constituency.

Mrs. E. C. Weddell, a resident of Kelowna for the past 31 years will carry the Progressive Conservative banner in the June 9 provincial election. Mrs. Weddell's nomination papers were filed a few hours before Tuesday's 1:00 p.m. deadline.

"I'll give Mr. Bennett a good run for his money," the Kelowna housewife and grandmother declared as she prepared to open her election campaign in Summerland Friday night.

Total of 224 candidates will fight for the 48 seats in B.C.'s legislature when voters go to the polls next month. In South Okanagan, Premier W. A. C. Bennett will lead the Social Credit forces; Tom Wilkinson will carry the CCF banner; Victor Wilson heads the Liberals, while Mrs. Weddell will seek election on the Pro Con ticket.

Wife of E. C. Weddell, Q.C., this will be Mrs. Weddell's first entry in politics. She was Cubmaster of the 1st Kelowna Cub pack from 1937, while her husband was equally active in the Scout movement, being Scoutmaster of the 1st Kelowna troop for 35 years and district commissioner for 15 years. Married in 1921, she is vice-president of the Advantage poll will be held at the Kelowna Fire Department on June 4-5-6 between 1:00 and 9:00 p.m. Those on the local voters' list, but who will be out of the city on election day, may vote at the special poll.

Ladies' Progressive Conservative Association and chairman of the citizenship committee of the Local Council of Women. Her three children are married, Ted and Brian living in Vancouver, and Phil in Calgary. In addition she has two grandchildren.

KEEN INTEREST

When the Pro Con association announced Mrs. Weddell's candidature it caused a stir in local political circles. In last year's provincial election, the Sacreds, under Mr. Bennett's leadership, won the South

Finlayson says Pro Cons will fight way back to leadership

THE PROGRESSIVE Conservative party will fight its way back and restore sense, trust and stability in this province, Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson declared here Wednesday afternoon.

Speaking in support of Mrs. E. C. Weddell, Pro Con candidate in South Okanagan riding, Mr. Finlayson charged Premier Bennett with "distorting the truth" in regard to the defeat of the now-famous Rolston education formula, and said the leaders of the three other parties pleaded with the premier to shelve the legislation and deal with more important business facing the house.

Calling for the Conservative party members to "re-examine our deficiencies," the provincial leader said "even if we do not win this election, we will certainly establish ourselves on a sound basis so that we will win the next one."

He termed Social Credit a myth, and "is something that must be removed through democratic principles." Mr. Finlayson predicted the "Conservative party will still be around long after Social Credit is forgotten."

FEELING OF DISTRUST

Since the Sacreds took over, he charged that a feeling of distrust has entered the government; that the province is in a "chaotic state" due to misadministration, and that Premier Bennett is a "political opportunist."

Mr. Finlayson charged that Mr. Bennett is distorting the truth during his current election campaign, and said it is about time the people knew the true facts regarding the downfall of the government over the Rolston formula plan.

The Liberals, Conservatives and CCF did not want an election, but Mr. Bennett saw that he could not carry on, so he forced the issue, he said. "I do not want and will not shirk mud in this campaign, but let's face the facts."

Referring to the Sacreds economy wave, he stated that any administration could save money by curtailing Pro Con or cutting staff of the department of regional development.

"But let us not be carried away by wild and ridiculous statements," Mr. Finlayson continued. He admitted the Pro Cons must fight their way back and under his leadership he promised the party would restore a sense of trust and stability; restore a respect in parliamentary procedure and deal with problems in a business-like manner.

"Let us not be carried away by emotional upsurge," he warned. "Capital has been scared off in B.C. What we have to do is to maintain a sensible attitude towards capital, realizing it is not a sin to make a profit, and know and appreciate the need for capital."

Freak accident damages three automobiles

A freak collision involving three automobiles resulted in heavy property damage late Saturday night but no one was hurt.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police said the mishap occurred when one car was struck from behind while in the process of overtaking a third auto. All three autos were proceeding towards Kelowna and were near the city end of the Barlee stretch of Highway 97 when the collision happened.

The force of the impact of the two cars colliding on the outside drove one into the lead car, which was driven by Joseph E. Bolling-broke of Vernon.

The middle auto, according to police, was driven by William P. Voght of Kelowna. The third vehicle, the one in the rear, was operated by Joseph Uhrich, 23, of Okanagan Centre.

Which was charged in district police court Tuesday morning on two counts. Stipendiary Magistrate A. D. Marshall fined him $20 and costs for driving without due care and attention and $25 and costs for contravening the restrictions endorsed on his driver's licence.

City's civil defence plans get realistic test Friday during "operation evacuee"

KELOWNA'S preparedness as a welfare reception centre will be given a realistic civil defence test tomorrow night (Friday). Test will consist of reception, registration, refreshment, and allotment of billets to "evacuees."

A "make-believe" convoy of 30 to 35 cars will be dispatched to the Okanagan Valley Mobile Support and Reception Area from Vancouver. Actually the convoy will be prepared at the Kelowna and district Memorial Arena and will be handled in accordance with "Evacuation Convoy, Daytime" instructions as prepared by civil defence welfare director C. R. Bull. Okanagan co-ordinator is J. H. Horn.

A motorcycle corps will conduct the convoy to the senior high school. Auxiliary police squad of five desks. If going to housekeeping billets, Jr. Red Cross members will direct evacuees to a supply desk where an order for supplies will be received. In case of missing relatives, they will also direct them to the inquiry desk. Another duty is to conduct evacuees to bar transport. Number on duty during passing of a convoy will be 11 and a team captain, Chairman is C. A. Bruce and deputy, S. Swift. Captain of team No. 1 is Alice de Pyle.

Veteran engineer retires from tugboat service

Thirty-four years of plying the waters of Lake Okanagan have come to an end for Dave Turnbull.

The veteran engineer, who was first employed on the Kelowna-Westbank ferry skippered by Captain Len Hayman, retired from service with the Canadian National Railways last Friday upon reaching superannuation age.

At an informal ceremony aboard the "Pentowna," he was feted with a dinner aboard the tugboat at which time the Captain, Alfred Lucking presented him with a scroll, a leather club bag, and a leather wallet containing $50. Mrs. Turnbull was presented with a bouquet of flowers.

After the provincial government took over the operation of the Westbank-Kelowna ferry, Mr. Turnbull remained with the CNR, and when the "Pentowna" was launched in July, 1952, he was appointed engineer.

Captain Hayman, one of the most colorful skippers of yesteryears, retired about seven years ago, and now lives at the coast.

DIFFICULT TO PART

"It's difficult to part with a group of men like you," declared Mr. Turnbull after Skipper Lucking proposed a toast. The veteran engineer well remembers the day the "Pentowna" was launched. "I was the first to lay my hands on her,"

CAMPBELL HELPS WITH HOMER

Orioles Rise To Tourney's Top On Arms of Carlson, Kielbiski

TWO KELOWNA pitchers proved they had a lot more on the ball than some camps gave them credit for when they conducted the Orioles to the top of the holiday baseball tournament here Monday. Big Bo Carlson hurled the Orioles to triumph in the first game, a 10-3 verdict over the Rutland Adanacs, and then veteran Eddie Kielbiski polished off the Vernon Canadians in the final, the Orioles winning first money with their decisive 9-1 victory.

Vernon gained the final at the expense of the Kelowna Chiefs, defeating them 5-2 in the other knockout game. This game was the only close one of the three and produced the most excitement for the scores of onlookers who welcomed the return of tournament baseball.

Rain interfered to keep the attendance down for the all-important final and the game was played with a light drizzle throughout. However, officials of the Chiefs, sponsors of the tournament, reported it was a success and that all four clubs appeared to be satisfied with the arrangements and spectators seemed contented with class of ball.

A five-run spree in the first inning, without a single hit, gave the Orioles the jump on Vernon in the final game that began at 6:00 p.m. and ran for seven innings. The Canadians never fully recovered and from the first inning on, all the Orioles had to do was play it cozy.

Wally Lesmeister, formerly of Kelowna but now residing in Lumby, was the losing Vernon pitcher, though he held the Orioles to four hits.

In the opener, played at 11:00 a.m., Carlson held the Ads scoreless until the sixth inning when the Rutlanders crossed the plate three times for their only runs. Orioles had two big innings—a three-runner in the second and a spree of five runs in the fifth.

Catcher Bob Campbell poled one of Lloyd Duggan's pitches over the right field fence, with two mates aboard to spark the five-run string in the fifth.

TOOK OVER IN FIFTH
Kelowna Chiefs scored first in the second game that got away at 2:00 p.m. but their undoing came in the fifth when a single, three errors and a hit-by-pitched ball contributed to a trio of counter that put the Vernon Canadians ahead to stay.

Exceptionally good fielding in the seventh saved the Chiefs from a rout when the Canucks banged out safeties three times in a row and had the assistance of an error and a passed ball to boot. As it was the Chiefs were charged for only one run—the final one in the game.

Like Jackson was in complete control after the Vernonites tied the count in the second, the Chiefs having trouble solving his style of delivery. A tally at the end showed he had won for Vernon with two hits. Canadians nicked Don Hick-

Orioles take on Macs Sunday

The Kelowna Orioles still rarin' to go after their decisive victories in the holiday tournament, will be seeking to get back into the winning ways in Okanagan Mainline Baseball League play when they take on the Summerland Macs here at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. The game, as usual, will be in The Stadium.

Meanwhile, the undefeated Okonots of Ken Stewart will be striving to stay that way when they enter into the tough Oliver Elks at Kamloops, also Sunday. In the day's third game, Penticton will show in Vernon.

At the present time Rudy Kielbiski's Orioles stand in fifth place on one win and three losses but a Kelowna win combined with a Penticton loss Sunday would boost the Orioles into a tie with Penticton for fourth.

Directors who still have another year to serve are J. I. Monteith, Dr. Cee Newby, Pat Dolson and Carl Stevenson.

Mrs. John Hou, representing the women's curling club, requested that provision be made for ladies to curl during evening hours as many business women find it a hardship to curl immediately after work. Request will be considered by the incoming executive.

Reports were submitted by various committee chairmen. The Ogo-ongo bonspiel was rated an outstanding success and a net profit of $752.77 was realized from this venture.

Many suggestions were put forward regarding improving club house facilities and streamlining season's play, and these will also be considered by the executive.

It was felt that those members who own their own rocks, will have little trouble disposing of them to other clubs in Western Canada.

MORE SPORT ON PAGE SIX OF THE SECOND SECTION.

G. K. Kristjanson will guide reins of local curling club

G. K. KRISTJANSON will guide the reins of the Kelowna Curling Club during the next 12 months. He was chosen president following the election of a ten-man executive at last night's annual meeting. Vice-president will be Walter Hobbs, well-known local curler.

Financial report revealed that after the club knocked off another $2,000 of the $4,000 mortgage, it still finished up with a new profit of $1,040.50. Total assets of the club now stand at over $63,000.

Retiring president Enoc Smith gave a resume of the year's activities and said that 34 pairs of matched rocks had arrived. These will be used during next season's play, and will not be removed from the curling club even for the purpose of competing in outside "spies".

DIRECTORS ELECTED
Seven directors were elected for two-year terms, and three for one-year terms from a total of 15 nominations. One-year terms were necessary to fill vacant posts caused by resignations.

Directors for two years are Walter Hobbs, George Meekling, G. K. Kristjanson, Nels Clow, J. K. Campbell, Vic Cowley, Horace Brownlee. Those serving one year are R. Morrison, C. I. Ennis and Vern Cumming.

What was lost inside was made up for in quantity during the fish derby within a fish derby over the holiday weekend.

While the largest catch was under five pounds, there were scores of fish turned in and, according to the derby officials, just as many not reported. Most fish reported were from one to two pounds.

By the 7:00 p.m. deadline Monday, Martin Shaw of Peachland had caught the largest Kamloops trout—one weighing four pounds, 13 ounces.

Prize for the second largest went to Matt Sperle of Kelowna with a four-pounder. The "three-one" catch of C. F. Sarsons of Okanagan Mission gained him third prize.

With a squaw fish each, three men shared the most coarse fish prize. They were E. J. W. (Ted) Adkins, I. Willman and Tom Treadgold, all of Kelowna.

The prize for the biggest fish by a junior (under 18 years) was awarded to Bill Stirling of Kelowna for his one pound, 12-ounce trout.

The seasonal derby goes on until December 31 and all the fish reported so far are eligible for prizes in the seasonal derby. Sponsor of the derby is Kelowna and District Rod and Gun Club.

Oh, the irony of it! never better at park but still no softball!

Considerable activity of the behind-the-scenes variety is going on.

It was learned today that Kelowna Junior High School was interested in entering a team in the league, with Teacher, Ches Larson as coach. On the strength of this, tentative arrangements were made to begin league play Monday, with Rovers meeting Club 13 at Athletic Oval, at 6:30 p.m.

since it was learned there would likely be no softball league play this summer.

Two men's teams have been formed (Rutland Rovers and Club 13) and there is a good chance there may be two more, one of them being "an almost certainty."

There are still two teams in the proposed women's league (Acas and Winfield) and some hope a third can be formed, located or scrounged so play may be started.

Ironically softball never had it better at The City Park's Athletic Oval, what with baseball back in the stadium. The softballers could be using the Oval six nights a week, with a few exceptions. Last year they considered themselves lucky to get the park twice a week.

DR. BUTLER REPORTS:
Allan Cup p(l)ayoff most lucrative in many years

MANY ITEMS of business transacted at the recent annual Canadian Amateur Hockey Association convention in Niagara Falls, Ont., and of interest to this province were revealed by Dr. Mel Butler of Kelowna upon his return. He represented B.C. in his capacity as first vice-president of the CAHA.

The province again will be given special consideration, in regard to imports, for the forthcoming season, being allowed six white teams in the other provinces will be able to have four only.

Another decision of the CAHA will allow Spokane Flyers to compete for the Allan Cup again. The ruling for the forthcoming season is that any American teams competing in an affiliated Canadian league will be eligible for Allan Cup playoffs.

GET OVER $3100
The recent Allan Cup playoffs was the most lucrative in the past few years, Dr. Butler reported. He said the CAHA netted over $71,000 in the inter-branch playoffs and Penticton V's, for teaching the final, got slightly over $3100. Had Penticton played in three series (as it was) they went direct into the Western final after winning the B.C. title they would have received considerably more.

Three B.C. teams have applied for permission to tour Japan and the merits of each application are being studied. They are from Kerisdale Wheelers, Kimberley Dynamieters and Trail Smoke Eaters.

The question of a replacement for a goalkeeper in playoffs, much in the news during the Penticton at Kitchener Allan Cup final, was given the once-over by the delegates to the CAHA convention, resulting in a defined rule.

Hereafter any team, before it begins an inter-branch playoff, must declare its spare goalie and it must be from the same branch as the team. The spare goalie could be carried in addition to 18 men. Formerly a team could have only 18 men, including a spare netman. IN B.C. IN 1954

Asked to enlarge on B.C.'s invitation to the CAHA to hold its 1954 convention in this province, Dr. Butler said there was little that could be added at the present time except that Vancouver and Harrison Hot Springs were the most likely sites.

Dr. Butler was away from home almost two weeks, arriving back here Tuesday.

All lakes open to anglers now

All lakes in the Kelowna area are now open for fishing. Latest to open were Beaver, Echo and Dee lakes today. They are reported free of ice with the road up the mountain in good shape.

Only forbidden area at present is Mission Creek but it will be open June 1.

Regulations for 1953 still are not available in printed form so last year's regulations are being followed at the present time.

Bear Lake hogged the limelight over the week-end, according to Jim Treadgold, whose well-read fishing column will re-appear in the Courier next week. "There are lots of good reports from here (Bear Lake)," said he.

Next Tuesday's weekly outing will be for the McTavish Cup, a handicap competition. The draw has been posted on the bulletin board at the Glenmore club house.

Mrs. Bonnie Lynn demonstrates how Mrs. Homemaker can have fun cooking attractive, but inexpensive meals

MRS. BONNIE LYNN, who is conducting the cooking school at the Empress Theatre this week, has travelled across Canada and the United States a good many times but, she says, "It's still a small world."

For instance, when she came through the Okanagan for the first time last year, a lady approached her following one of the cooking demonstrations wishing to speak to her about the United States for she too was an American.

"What part of the states are you from?" asked Mrs. Lynn. "A small town in West Virginia—you've probably never heard of it," was the reply.

Mrs. Lynn not only had heard of the town, she was born there. She also went to school with the lady's cousin and the two of them had been good friends.

"These things happen all the time and I find friends in the most unexpected places," laughed Mrs. Lynn.

Most attractive and genuinely friendly, Mrs. Lynn graduated in home economics from the University of West Virginia. When she isn't travelling, she spends her time with her husband, a grown son and daughter, in New York.

"I'm happy to be back here," said Mrs. Lynn. "Although I like all of Canada, B.C. appeals to me most."

"Tell me about your cooking school," I said.

MANY PRIZES
"I'm sponsored by Gordon's Super-Valu and the prizes, General Electric tea kettles to be given away daily and the General Electric washer, which will be given away on Saturday, are donated by Loane's Hardware and the General Electric company. Fifteen food hampers will also be given out each day as well as the food I make."

"Preparing three meals a day for the 365 days in the year can be boring. The cooking school demonstrates how the homemaker can have fun with food using all the shortcuts in the book. It's all very informal."

"In preparing my recipes, I try to put a 'budge' in the budget. Keeping the average household in mind, recipes should be inexpensive but attractive and nourishing and they should be quick. As you will notice, I use name brands," she said, nodding to a large display of groceries on the stage. Mrs. Eva Rankin and Mrs. Adelaide Richmond are Mrs. Lynn's local assistants for the five day school which ends Saturday.

As I was going out the door, Mrs. Lynn remarked "Come back and I'll bake you a cake."

"I'll be back—along with hundreds of others."

WESTBANK—Preceded by an escort of RCMP, His Excellency, the Right Honorable Vincent Massey arrived in Westbank at 1.15 p.m. on Friday, where a brief stop was made at the site of the cairn which commemorates the trail of the fur traders through the Okanagan Valley.

The Governor-General was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Massey; Reeve C. E. Bentley, of West Summerland and two Aides-de-Camp, Lieut. John Waters, RCN and F/L Arthur Titus, RCAF.

On his arrival His Excellency inspected the guard of honor, comprising the 1st and 2nd Bns. of the 1st Westbank Boy Scouts, the 1st Cub Pack and the Brownies, all very smart and efficient-looking in their uniforms.

Following the presentation of representatives of various local organizations, T. B. Reese, president of the Westbank Board of Trade, delivered the following address of welcome:

"It is indeed an honor to welcome Your Excellency on this historic site, and we greet you also, sir, as the representative of our beloved Queen. The cairn that marks this spot commemorates the Hudson's Bay Brigade Trail, first explored by the Astorians almost one hundred and fifty years ago, and later used by the fur traders en route from New Caledonia to Fort Okanagan on the Columbia River."

"Here, on MacDonald's Plain, as this spot was then known, the fur brigades regularly made camp in their journeyings north and south, and it was for this very reason that the Historic Sites Board, of Ottawa, saw fit to have this cairn erected in 1949, this historic cairn in commemoration of the old fur trade route through this valley."

"And now, Wendy, whose grandfather is a member of one of the first families to settle here, and whose grandmother had a part in the selection of this particular site for the cairn, is pleased to present to Your Excellency, on our behalf, a booklet containing the story of 'The Significance of the Hudson's Bay Brigade Trail.'"

In reply, His Excellency expressed his interest in visiting this beautiful part of Canada and in travelling over the historic route of the fur traders took through the Okanagan.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese were the first to meet the visitors, after which the following were presented: Kananaskis war veteran Sglt. Leslie Duzak, whose service ribbons were immediately recognized by His Excellency; David Gellatly, and taking the place of Mrs. Gellatly, executive member of the Okanagan Historical Society, who was unable to be present, was Mr. and Mrs. Gellatly's daughter, Mrs. C. D. Dobbin.

Mrs. J. H. Blunkey, president of Westbank Women's Institute; school principal Bruce Woodworth and Mrs. Woodworth; Allan H. Davidson, sixty years in Westbank, and Mrs. Davidson; Mrs. R. A. Pritchard; senior citizens, Mrs. W. R. Smith, Mrs. F. E. Evans, Miss M. J. Dobbin and H. C. Last.

W. H. Moffat, local civil defense organizer; P. C. Gerrie, chief instructor Thunderbird Cadet Corp; Scoutmaster Kazuo Tanaka; Cubmaster Milton Reese and Brownie leader Mrs. C. B. Cameron.

Unable to be present were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Paynter and J. W. Hannam.

JUST TRY THIS IN YOUR COFFEE CUP when you're "draggy" and "ALL WASHED UP"

Do you often feel under par—drowsed down by listless, sluggish feelings? Accumulated body wastes can bring on these symptoms. They're often a sign that your body needs the kind of help Kruschen Salts can give in promoting the healthy action of the intestines, where food is digested, and the kidneys. You see, Kruschen is not simply a gentle but effective laxative—it is also a diuretic, which means it has the property of aiding the kidneys, too, in their job of getting rid of waste matter. Thus this easy-to-take remedy works not only promptly, but thoroughly. Just try a little Kruschen in your morning beverage when needed. See how quickly you begin to feel better all day—every day!

Penticton plans to control flies

PENTICTON—Council found out that the ladies' organizations in this city haven't forgotten the fly pest and the need for control spraying and last week agreed that it would spend more money this year on spraying to eliminate the pests.

Last year council received letters from a dozen ladies' groups urging that some measures be implemented this year in order that the danger of polio, resulting from flies, might be lessened.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion reminded council that all last year's requests had been referred to the 1953 council.

Change set-up of farm labor service in Okanagan Valley

D. M. DISNEY of the local national employment service office, will be in charge of obtaining adequate supply of labor for orchard work, previously handled by the federal-provincial farm labor service.

According to Jack MacLennan, BC FGA secretary, the outlook for orchard help is much brighter this year. For the last two years there has been a pickers' crisis around the time the McIntosh apple crop is ready to be harvested.

During the board of trade, in co-operation with farm labor service officials and the BCFGA made a study of the labor situation, and a change in the system is believed to be the outcome of the discussions.

At that time it was found that "local" help could only be counted on during an emergency; that "transient" pickers "played the field" and worked for the orchardist who paid the most money. Some of these pickers stayed only a few days before moving on.

Recently William MacGillivray, director of extension and development, department of agriculture, Victoria, and W. L. Forrester, federal regional supervisor, national employment service, Vancouver, toured the Okanagan and held meetings with growers in Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon.

According to Mr. MacLennan, it is expected that the national employment service ultimately will take over full direction of the federal-provincial farm labor service. The provincial department of agriculture, with its experience in setting up and operating what was originally a war time emergency scheme, will continue to serve in an advisory capacity.

LABOR COMMITTEE Appointment of assistant placement officers in certain areas last year proved so beneficial, that the same policy will be adopted this year.

District councils of the BCFGA have each appointed a small labor committee to co-operate with placement officers in these districts, Mr. MacLennan said.

Final rites for Mrs. Annie McMaster, a Kelowna resident for more than 30 years, were observed Saturday at the chapel of Day's Funeral Service Ltd., conducted by Rev. D. M. Perley of First United Church. Burial was in Kelowna Cemetery.

A native of Scotland, 84 years ago, the late Mrs. McMaster came to Canada as a young woman and spent the years of the Prairies before coming to B.C. with her husband and family. She was predeceased by a daughter in 1918 and by her husband in 1947.

She leaves to mourn her passing one son, George, six sisters: Mrs. E. (Bella) Ripps, Rutland; Mrs. F. (Dugan) Dugan, Kelowna; Mrs. (May) Jeffery, Vancouver; Mrs. R. (Agnes) Nealey, Randle, Wash.; Mrs. D. (Jeanette) Chapman, Vancouver; and Mrs. A. (Helen) Knudsen. Fifteen grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren also are left.

Plymouth Brethren final rites will be held Sunday at 2:00 p.m. from the Gospel Hall in Westbank. Mr. Campbell of Vancouver officiating. Interment will follow in the Westbank Cemetery, Day's Funeral Service Ltd. in charge.

She leaves her husband and five children: Barry, Westbank; Jack, Calgary; Mrs. M. H. (Betty) Walker, Penticton; Barbara, Westbank; and Dorothy, Penticton. Two grandchildren also are left.

Will hold funeral for Mrs. S. E. Stubbs Fri. Mrs. Susie Edith Stubbs, a Westbank resident for the past 18 years, died in hospital in Vancouver Saturday at the age of 49. She was born in Spy Hill, Sask., coming to Westbank from Saskatchewan in 1935.

Final rites were held Monday from the chapel of Kelowna Funeral Directors, conducted by the Christian Science Society. Interment was in Kelowna Cemetery beside the grave of her father, Howard Miles Willson, who died in 1945, a year after the Willsons came here from Vancouver.

BECAME SALESMAN Born in Vancouver August 20, 1913, William Howard Willson became afflicted with arthritis over 20 years ago. He made the best of his affliction and a livelihood by selling articles in season. He had an outdoors stand on Ellis Street for a while.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Vera Willson, at the family home, 593 Sutherland Avenue, his sister, Miss Doreen Willson, also at home, and a brother Edwin.

districts be used as a basis, it tends to perpetuate past discrepancies. If a district has been extravagant it will be subsidized for continuing to do so and if it has economized, the economy will be continued, thus making 78 standards of service instead of one. Because the formula is based on total population rather than on school population, those districts which have a greater proportion of children to the number of adults will have to pay a higher mill rate. In areas of increasing population, budget based grants will increase the local mill rate because local boards must meet one-half the increase over 1952 and poor districts will face bigger increases in mill rate. Thus the Rolston formula is a "rich man's budget." It does not justify taking away the sales tax from the communities.

Mrs. Hodges also denounced the recent attack on the present educational system in B.C. and quoted from a letter written by Rev. John S. Crane, secretary of the B. C. Council on Family Relations, which stated that the "Effective Living" course is an integral part of our education.

UNDIGNIFIED REMARKS Mrs. Hodges opined that it was undignified for a premier to make remarks which slur the character of other politicians in the House such as Premier Bennett made against Mr. Winch and Mr. Kennedy in which he said that they resigned from their positions because they were afraid to run in another election.

"Mr. Winch has been in the legislature for the past 20 years and anyone who has ever run against him in an election will tell you that he was hard to beat," she said. "I have been in the House with Mr. Winch for 12 years and I have never met a parliamentarian who has given better public service. He is straight, honest, and he has the courage of his convictions. I have never agreed with his political views but he is a man to be respected and I cannot allow such slurs to go on my colleagues." She said she deprecated such methods in campaigns.

In support of Mr. Wilson, Mrs. Hodges said she has met a good many potential candidates in her time and thinks the South Okanagan in fortunate in having so fine a candidate. A teacher, a farmer and a veteran, the speaker pointed out that yet another point in his favor is his youth. She said that the Liberal party is developing a very strong core, combining youth with the wisdom that comes with age.

Highlights of Mr. Wilson's speech stressed his sincerity to bring back to the government in Victoria some stability and some dignity and although he has never before entered politics, he believes that as a teacher, veteran and farmer, he can lend practical, sensible ideas to help solve problems and bring back to B.C. some measure of responsible government.

LEADER SPEAKS At a meeting held here last Thursday, Ar. Laing, provincial leader of the Liberal party, stated he wanted elected members to work harder than members in the past and to know the problems of the people. He pledged himself to responsible government in B.C. and paid tributes to the high calibre and intelligence of Victor Wilson, "who is 100 per cent Okanaganite."

In his address, he took issue with Premier Bennett for his statement that until he became premier with the Conservatives, the interior of B.C. was regarded as the interior of Africa. Mr. Laing said he wants unity in this province and not disunity. He is in favor of orderly practice, not chaos, and is opposed to cheap wages as well as any extra taxation on forestry and mining industries.

He said that chaotic conditions prevalent in the minds of the people is the Social Credit theme. The leader stated that there is a return to active political Liberalism in B.C. and predicted that his party is going to do very well on June 9.

Laing, provincial leader of the Liberal party, stated he wanted elected members to work harder than members in the past and to know the problems of the people. He pledged himself to responsible government in B.C. and paid tributes to the high calibre and intelligence of Victor Wilson, "who is 100 per cent Okanaganite."

In his address, he took issue with Premier Bennett for his statement that until he became premier with the Conservatives, the interior of B.C. was regarded as the interior of Africa. Mr. Laing said he wants unity in this province and not disunity. He is in favor of orderly practice, not chaos, and is opposed to cheap wages as well as any extra taxation on forestry and mining industries.

He said that chaotic conditions prevalent in the minds of the people is the Social Credit theme. The leader stated that there is a return to active political Liberalism in B.C. and predicted that his party is going to do very well on June 9.

Packinghouses prepare for 1953 crop as last of apples leave Valley

PACKINGHOUSES throughout the Okanagan Valley are in the midst of cleaning out their huge storage warehouses and overhauling machinery in preparation for the 1953 crop.

Last two carloads of the 1952 apple crop left the valley over the week-end, bound for Montreal. Total B.C. apple shipments to the fresh fruit markets for the year was 5,328,060 boxes, an increase of 395,843 boxes over the previous season. These figures do not include apples which went to canners and processors.

According to J. B. Lander, sales manager for B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., the growers' selling agency, 2,250,000 boxes of apples went to Western Canada markets, some 1,000,000 boxes to Eastern Canada, including Newfoundland, and 1,800,000 boxes shipped to the U.S.A. Off-shore markets, mainly Brazil, took 150,000 boxes.

While the 1952 crop was not up to its usual color standard due to weather conditions, Mr. Lander reported the year "highly successful" for B.C. apples.

But apple growers will not know for another week as to how much they will receive for their 1952 produce. According to B.C. Tree Fruits' president, A. K. Loyd, the apple pool will close around the middle of next week. It is anticipated the net price to the grower will be a little higher than last year.

Mr. Loyd refuted a recent story in the Vancouver Sun which quoted Sam Cochodas, of Cochodas Brothers Ltd., Ishpeming, Mich. to the effect the distributing firm would purchase $2,000,000 worth of apples this year.

"No such contract is in existence," he said, "nor have any forward contracts been made regarding this year's crop." Nevertheless he added, Tree Fruits would be glad to sell Mr. Cochodas all the apples he wants, Mr. Loyd continued. In bygone years the U.S. firm has purchased small amounts of B.C. apples.

Divers and water skiers give pleasing demonstration during tea honoring Governor-General

The Canadian Club banner on a trellis backing, contrasted with huge baskets of white lilies and scarlet tulips; vases of spring flowers created fragrant splashes of color and the sun from outside perched itself upon the silver tea services, its beams reflecting in the countenances of those attending the tea in honor of the Governor-General, sponsored by the Kelowna Canadian Club, at 4:30 p.m. Thursday afternoon.

Red-coated mounties stood on guard at the Aquatic entrance to the pavilion and divers and water skiers demonstrated their welcome in a display of skill in the pool.

TALK ON BLIND GIVEN WHITE CANE CLUB

A special meeting of the Kelowna White Cane Club was held recently when Capt. Robinson, of Vancouver, manager of the CNB for Western Canada, addressed the local club, outlining his own experiences in the dark world and comparing today's advantages for the unsighted with those in the days after World War I, in which he was blinded at the age of 19.

He stated that with all the present day advantages, the triumph in the sightless world still rests with the individual alone. Capt. Robinson was the prime moving spirit in instituting the White Cane Clubs in Canada.

Capt. Robinson was accompanied on the Okanagan tour by his wife.

MRS. WEDDELL MAKES DEBUT IN POLITICAL ARENA FRIDAY NIGHT

Mrs. E. C. Weddell will make her debut in the political arena when she speaks at a meeting to be held in West Summerland tomorrow (Friday) night at 8 o'clock in the New Way Annex.

Within a few hours after announcing her candidature, she appointed H. S. Harrison Smith campaign manager. Mrs. Weddell also spoke briefly at a luncheon tendered yesterday to Deane Finlayson, provincial Pro Con leader.

"I think it's high time women took more interest in politics," she declared, adding that in view of the fact that women hold 52 per cent of the voting power, they should be prepared to accept office.

Mrs. Weddell said she was proud to be associated with the Conservative party and that she heartily approved of the election platform. "We have a great heritage of achievement in B.C. laid down by the Progressive Conservative Party. We dare not and will not lose this heritage," she said.

DOLLAR A DAY CO-INSURANCE TO BE REMOVED

The present BCHS system of charging patients One Dollar for each day spent in hospital will be abolished by the Liberals if elected on June 9th. The new Liberal platform adopted by a convention of 800 delegates from all over B.C. last April and approved by their Provincial Leader, Mr. Arthur Laing, calls for the continuation of benefits of hospitalization without co-insurance.

Another plank in the Liberal Health and Welfare program calls for the payment by the government from consolidated revenue of premiums for citizens of low incomes. This would provide much-needed financial relief for hundreds of citizens. If you favor these proposed changes to the Hospital Insurance Act, make Liberal Candidate Victor Wilson your first choice on June 9th.

any endeavour for the welfare of their community and their country. It is a great disappointment to us that we could not accommodate many more that should rightfully be here. I regret this very much.

"Before I make the introduction of our Queen's representative, I would be remiss if I did not mention a few accomplishments of this outstanding Canadian—long and distinguished record in education circles; done much to further appreciation of music, art and the drama in Canada; elected to House of Commons and minister without portfolio in 1925; attended Imperial Conference in London as a member of Canadian delegation; envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary for Canada to the U.S. 1926 to 1930; High Commissioner for Canada in U.K. 1935 to 1946; writer of numerous books; chairman of Royal Commission on the development of the Arts, Letters and Sciences" and to a considerable degree, author of its now famous report. The first Canadian to be appointed Governor-General of Canada.

"We all realize that our distinguished guest is subject to very considerable strain on a trip such as this, but in a moment or two we will appreciate hearing any remarks he cares to make."

"It is with pride and pleasure that I now introduce to you His Excellency the Right Honourable Vincent Massey."

WHIZZ-BANGS PLAN REUNION IN PENTICTON

Annual reunion of the Whizzbang Association will be held in Penticton this year.

Memories of old battles, hardships and good times will be recalled Sunday, June 7, when men of the old 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles and the present B.C. Dragoon units convene for the nineteenth annual reunion in Penticton's Armories.

Veterans intending to be there should let the reunion officials in Penticton know as quickly as possible so that adequate catering can be arranged.

The reunion includes the annual general meeting and will conclude with a banquet and entertainment.

Crown Plays Important Role In Development of Character Declares Governor-General

"Liberty and authority in our highest tradition, British and Canadian, are blended in the crown and personified by the sovereign who wears it. The institution of the crown does not conflict with the idea of equality, but equal citizens require a personal symbol to unite them."

So declared Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, C.H., when he addressed a civic dinner tendered in his honor at the Royal Anne Hotel Thursday night. The Governor-General earlier in the day spoke to over 4,000 children and adults in the City Park where he was given a civic welcome.

Mr. Massey wound up a busy three days in the South Okanagan Saturday afternoon. After spending Friday night in Penticton, he returned here the following day and was conducted on a tour of inspection through the S. M. Simpson Mill by H. B. Simpson, vice-president and manager. Friday morning the distinguished visitor went on a scenic drive to view the orchards. The tour was arranged by the Kelowna Board of Trade, and before leaving for the south, the Kelowna Yacht Club took them on a short cruise on Lake Okanagan.

VIEWS ORCHARDS

His Excellency, making his first visit to the Okanagan in the capacity of Governor-General, was impressed with the valley. Apple orchards were at the height of bloom, and he was intrigued by the thousands of acres of fruit farms which extend from Kamloops south to the border.

Mayor J. J. Ladd, was banquet chairman, and he explained that circumstances permitted inviting only a small number of guests (about 140 were at the dinner), but they never-the-less represented a large number of citizens who are proud of their community.

Mr. Ladd later presented His Excellency with an aerial photograph of the city, and Lady-of-the-Lake Kathy Archibald presented him with a copy of "Ogopogo's Vigil," written by Frank Buckland, well-known Okanagan pioneer, who was unable to be present. Mr. Massey said he would cherish the gifts and they would provide pleasant memories of his visit to Kelowna.

Later J. B. Knowles, president of the Okanagan Historical Society, presented the distinguished visitor with a copy of the 16th report of the O.H.S. along with a picture of the stone wall depicting Lady Aberdeen's garden which was taken at Gulschan Ranch this year.

WARM WELCOME

The Governor-General said he will long remember the heart-warming welcome given him in Kelowna. "It has been a very moving experience for me. The charm of your welcome equals the loveliness of the setting in which you live," he said.

He explained that he had done a lot of travelling and that during the last 15 months, had covered 28,000 miles.

"I could say a great deal about my impressions, but may I mention just one thing—and that is the variety of life in Canada, which is one of our glories. We are not standardized. Our communities everywhere show their own individual characteristics. We welcome such differences and respect them. There is no conflict between love for one's own community and loyalty to the whole. I can well understand what a deep feeling of pride there must be in the hearts of those who live here on the shore of the Okanagan Lake.

IMPORTANCE OF CROWN

"In the minds of any of us who travel about this country, a natural question arises. What are the things which make us different from other countries? What are the things which make Canada unique? This is too big a subject to embark on this evening. I have only one thing to say. Here, in the Americas, we express democracy in our own way, by the institution of crown, and parliament. We are a monarchy, and we are conscious of the role which the crown plays in our life, and of what it means to us as a nation."

"It is natural for us, in this Coronation year, to think of the particular role of the crown in modern times. With the wonderful flexibility of British institutions, the crown, as an element in our life, has adapted itself to changing conditions, just as the members of our Royal House, through the years, have related themselves instinctively to contemporary life. I could say much of the role of the crown in these days. It will be my duty and privilege to speak to the nation on this subject on Coronation Day, but this need not prevent me from alluding here to some of the things which I know we think and feel at this time."

HIGH TRADITION

"As I have said, liberty and authority in our highest tradition, British and Canadian, are blended in the crown and personified by the sovereign who wears it. There is no need for me to say how fortunate and happy we are in our young Sovereign, as we were fortunate to be subjects of her father and her grandfather... to speak only of recent years. They have all been persons who could combine to splendour of great office with human warmth and friendliness. The institution of the crown does not conflict with the idea of equality, but equal citizens require a personal symbol to unite them. It is this personal symbol at the head of our state, which represents the ideals and interests we have in common. The institution of the crown and the person of the sovereign, give us authority combined with a spirit of dedication, magnificence allied with simplicity, high office imbued with humanity."

"The crown plays a profoundly important part in the development of our national character and in the maintenance of those particular qualities which help to keep Canada Canadian. As we offer Her Majesty our homage and service on the Second of June, we shall be paying tribute to a great historical symbol; we shall be pledging our loyalty to a beloved Person, and we shall be performing an act which is our duty and our privilege as Canadians; for the Queen is not only our Queen in historical phrases, or in official language, she is in very truth, the Queen of Canada."

MAYOR'S REMARKS

In welcoming the Governor-General at the civic dinner, Mayor Ladd said:

"This afternoon I had the honor and pleasure of officially welcoming our distinguished visitor to Kelowna and district."

"At this time I desire to inform his excellency that this small gathering here tonight represents a larger body of our people who are always willing to actively support

Young People Take to Governor-General At Local Inspection

A WAY with and respect for children was conclusively demonstrated by Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canada's Governor-General, when he made his first visit in the capacity of the Queen's representative to Kelowna last week.

More than half of His Excellency's short public address at The City Park, Thursday afternoon, where thousands of individuals turned out to see and hear the vice-regent were addressed to and intended for the "junior members" of the audience.

In keeping with tradition, he asked for, in the name of Queen Elizabeth, "whom I have the honor to represent," a school holiday for the entire district. School district officials proclaimed Friday as the special holiday in observance of His Excellency's visit, giving the 4,000 pupils from Oyama in the north to Peachland in the south a longer-than-long week-end.

During the review of military and other groups at Athletic Oval that took up nearly 45 minutes,

One of the finest shorts ever to be shown here was part of the Paramount theatre's program on Monday and Tuesday: Royal Heritage. The theatre people certainly slipped up badly on their pre-showing publicity of this film and many many people here are the poorer as a result.

Royal Heritage was an education,
a pleasant, soul-stirring education.
It should be seen by every school child in Canada. Its theme is the background of Elizabeth and the Coronation. It tells how and why certain things are done and certain things used in the coronation ceremony.

It is in color and there are some magnificent shots of England, Scotland and, yes, Canada (including Revelstoke in a snow storm). The crown jewels are shown in color and there are some excellent shots of the horse and foot guards on parade. The reading of the coronation proclamation from the balcony and that magnificent concluding episode of the Keeper of the Queen's Keys ceremony is something one will long remember.

This half-hour film is an experience. As one listens to the coronation broadcasts one will be able now to picture the color and the atmosphere. It is a shame it has not been more widely shown and I, for

Two Speakers Explain Details Of Rolston Education Formula And Hospital Insurance Act

Mark Rose of the Kelowna Senior High School staff and C. F. Lavery, administrator of the Kelowna hospital, were guest speakers at this month's meeting of the Local Council of Women.

Although the council is a non-political organization, its programs are designed in part at least to keep women informed on the issues involved in the business of government. For this reason, Mr. Rose, representing the B.C. Teachers' Federation, spoke on the subject, "How is education financed in B.C. and what is the Rolston Formula?"

In his address, he said that the government, aiming to equalize costs and standards, pays 50 per cent of costs of all new buildings and new equipment and in addition, makes grants to city councils based on pupil attendance and qualifications of teachers. The council pays 50 per cent of the new building and new equipment costs and also make up the difference between grants and total cost of operation.

Because of inflation, municipalities needed further aid, Mr. Rose explained, and therefore one third of the SS and MA tax was directed to councils to be used, if they so directed, as an additional aid to education.

School costs are continuing to rise for three reasons: inflation, the need for more buildings and more teachers, due to increased population and essential increases in the salaries of teachers. To meet this difficulty, the Rolston Formula has been evolved and it purports that the 1952 school budget of all districts be used as a basis, that municipalities contribute to school costs by taxing a minimum of nine mills on 100 per cent of land and 75 per cent of improvements, values assessed. Future increased cost over 1952 is to be borne, in rural areas, 75 per cent by the province and 25 per cent by the locality; in most municipalities, 50 per cent by the province and 50 per cent by the locality and in municipalities over 50,000 population, 25 per cent by the province and 75 per cent by the municipalities. No municipality is to receive less aid in 1953 than in 1952.

EQUALIZE ASSESSMENTS
School boards may borrow the full cost for new buildings with the province paying 50 per cent of the debt reduction and interest charges over the years. One third of the SS and MA tax formerly paid to municipalities is to be distributed and the money is now to go directly to school boards and is to come from consolidated revenue. A commission will be established to equalize assessment through B.C., based on total population, not on the school population.

The federation of teachers feels that although there are certain advantages in the formula there are definite disadvantages as well. Four advantages are, the total amount for education is increased by 4 1/2 million dollars. Some feel there would have been increased grants anyway due to increases in sales tax revenue and basic grants, based on increase of teachers and pupils. Grants are now to come from consolidated revenue of the province and to go directly to school boards rather than municipal councils. Each district must contribute a standard minimum of nine mills to education. The attempt will be made to standardize a basis for assessment in all districts at least for school tax purposes.

SOME DISADVANTAGES
Listed in the disadvantages is the fact that the formula is based on total population rather than on school population those districts which have a greater proportion of children to the number of adults will have to have a higher mill rate.

The teachers' federation realizes that the Rolston Formula is not regarded as perfect or final and they appreciate the fact that revisions will be made as weaknesses appear. The organization has submitted a plan to the government, based on a revised version of the Cameron report.

In the address given by C. F. Lavery, he emphasized the powers delegated to the board of directors. The board is made responsible for the operation of the hospital and the medical staff, and includes responsibility in conjunction with the medical staff.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE
Mr. Lavery pointed out that it is the hospital insurance act that is causing so much controversy, especially certain sections of it. The act deals with two different aspects of the same subject. First, the relationship the government has to the public as its insurance company through the service of the B.C. Hospital Insurance and secondly the control the hospital insurance service exercises over hospitals through dispensing these funds and other funds placed at its disposal through the act. The man in the street pays his hospital insurance premium and this service pays the hospital when the need for hospital care arises for that man.

The speaker felt that the size of premiums and a completely satisfactory method of collecting them were matter outside his scope. However he is interested in seeing that Kelowna General hospital is adequately financed.

The BCHIS provides certain benefits, one of which is that hospitals shall be reimbursed for rendering public ward service. The method of comprising the sum to be paid is dependent on the budget submitted by the hospital. The act so provides for a special fund known as the hospital building fund which has been particularly advantageous in Kelowna.

Minimum 500 Subscriptions Needed for Concert Series

"With a minimum adult membership, that is, 500 subscriptions, we will be able to bring to the Okanagan Valley four first-rate artists during the fall and winter of next year," Dr. John Gibson, president of the South Okanagan Community Concerts Association, stated in a recent interview.

The newly-formed association will launch its membership drive during the final week of May. Subscriptions for this season will be available through Loane's Music Centre, arranged by Philip Howes, chairman of the Kelowna branch of the concert association.

"We can't promise the really top-flight men and women like Heifetz, Lily Pons or Nelson Eddy, because an organization of this size can't afford their prices. What we can promise is a chance to hear the rising younger artists, known in the trade as 'comers.' They might be called the 'Pons and the Eddys of tomorrow,'" Dr. Gibson said.

DANCERS ALSO AVAILABLE

He went on to say that dancers are available for bookings as well as singers and instrumentalists with Columbia Artists. Omak, which has had a very successful association for the past 10 years, recently booked two well-known Spanish dancers for their final concert.

Some Okanaganites went down to the concert and reported very favourably on the quality of the performance.

"One very pleasant feature of this organization is that subscriptions are recognized in any community where there is a similar association, organized under the auspices of Columbia Artists," he said.

For example, members can travel to Omak to hear any or all of their concerts and their members will be admitted to the local series. The association must guarantee 500 memberships to Columbia Artists before it can become a member association under their auspices with act although there are certain regulations concerning T.B. patients and some drugs, not on the B.C. formulary, which must be paid for by the patient.

Mr. Lavery pointed out that the officials of BCHIS are a body of sincere civil servants working within the rules of the act and believe that a hospital should be an autonomous unit operated by an independent board. He felt too, that much credit is due any hospital board as theirs is indeed a thankless job.

Brief reports were given by committee heads of natural resources, education, citizenship, United Nations and arts and letters.

SUNFLOWER SEEDS
Great interest has been aroused in the possible commercial value of the oil of the sunflower seeds which, after being tested in Nebraska, have been found commercially valuable. It is hoped that these seeds may be grown to advantage in the Okanagan.

Under the auspices of the health and welfare committee, a film was shown on why children. The film showed how such children could be trained to take a happy normal place in society by receiving loving care and trained understanding.

WOMEN WILL VISIT KELOWNA DURING INTERIOR TOUR

The Associate Country Women of the World conference tour will be coming to Kelowna in September and will meet the Women's Institute members from Rutland, East Kelowna and Kelowna in the City Park. A welcome is being planned and afternoon tea will be served.

It was also disclosed at Thursday's meeting that home economist instructors from UBC will be in Kelowna and East Kelowna June 26 and 27, under the auspices of the Women's Institutes, to demonstrate on home decorating and sewing. There will be no admission and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Mrs. W. Jackson featured a beautiful display of fancywork made by the local Institute members, some of which, it is hoped, will be shown at the PNE.

A Kelowna delegate attended the district convention held recently at Winfield.

Explosion Rocks Windsor As Fire Sweeps Through Paint Plant

FED BY INFLAMMABLE material, flames shoot skyward as fire raced through a paint and varnish plant in Windsor, Ont. A violent explosion rocked the city as it preceded the fire which gutted the building despite the attempts of every available fireman on hand to fight the flames. The men were successful, however, in stopping it from reaching tanks of inflammable paint solvents and varnish. There were no fatalities, but two watchmen caught by the blast, suffered under-terminated injuries.

Canadian Legion beer sale conviction is quashed

VICTORIA—B.C. Court of Appeal has established the right of Canadian Legion Branch, No. 25, at Kelowna, to serve beer to non-member guests.

The court, in a majority decision by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson and Mr. Justice H. I. Bird, has set aside a magistrate's conviction of the club for selling unlawfully to non-members, which carried a $1000 fine. Mr. Justice Sydney Smith dissented.

The club failed in an earlier appeal attempt when a County Court judge upheld the magistrate's decision.

T. G. Norris, QC, acted for the club during the appeal proceedings, and Lloyd G. McKenzie for the Crown.

This case was heard in Vancouver at the last sitting of Appeal Court there.

"I think public interest is being confused with 'auto court owners' interest," Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh commented.

The city assessor, S. H. Cornock, then stated that the final decision to allow the operation of an auto court rests with the provincial government.

"If the government has the final say then it is no concern of ours," declared Alderman J. G. Harris.

Ontario peach marketing plan "out" for 1953

Last February a delegation of officials of the Ontario peach industry conferred with the Hon. F. S. Thomas, minister of agriculture, in the Ontario Legislature, on plans for a vote on a fresh peach marketing scheme. The delegation stressed the desire for a vote during the month of March, in good time to have the scheme in operation for this season.

The scheme was recommended by the marketing committee of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association and the Essex County Associated Growers. It proposed that daily minimum fresh peach prices be set during the season by a negotiating committee of growers and dealers; that the quality of peaches coming to market be regulated through variety and size elimination, particularly in large crop years, and that the minimum price structure be supported by an assessment of ten percent of the daily negotiated price on all peaches sold for market stabilization purposes.

DECIDE AGAINST VOTE

Recently the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Board announced it had decided against holding a vote in view of administrative and legal difficulties.

Under the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Act all sales by growers of any regulated product direct to consumers, to independent retail stores and to certain classes of chain stores, are exempt from the provisions of any marketing scheme. These exemptions would conflict with the proposed new regulations. There would be two sets of laws for the one class of business. It would be an attempt to combine free-for-all selling with stabilized marketing and would create impossible legal and administrative problems.

The government's decision not to hold a vote has been a distinct shock to the many Ontario growers who were hoping the scheme would be approved as a first step in an attempt at orderly marketing, a prominent grower said.

Dropped for 1953 it is probable that, with certain revisions, the peach marketing scheme will be proposed for next year, one official stated.

RAF PLANES MAKE REGULAR FLIGHTS OVER NORTH POLE

A HASTINGS aircraft of the Royal Air Force is guided to a landing at Resolute Bay after flying over the North Pole. The flight, one of several by RAF planes, gave the crews experience in flying over territory where compasses are useless and special navigation aids had to be used. The flights from Resolute Bay, and RCAF station within the Arctic circle, took 11 hours. The exact site of the North Pole showed only a fissured ice-field.

of admiration for the manner in which the festival is handled. It is quite true that probably behind the scenes there were some hitches but these were not apparent to the average spectator. The events started on time which is a big thing. Everybody works and most are unpaid. Every little detail is in hand. It is organized so well indeed that most of the executive committee, once the affair starts, are able to relax—almost.

Another comment which should be made: Kathie Archibald, Kelowna's Lady-of-the-Lake, made an excellent impression. She was selected to make a reply on behalf of the visiting princesses to the Queen's address of welcome. Several people commented to me about what a good job she did. Mayor Pullman of Wenatchee and the Queen's Chaplain used almost the same words. As the Mayor put it: "Your young lady just about stole the show." It makes one feel good to know that your town's representatives have done a good job for themselves and, more important, for the town they represent. And Kathie did.

The b.w. and I had planned to steal a couple or three days to look at the ocean down the Oregon Coast. We did get as far as Seattle from Wenatchee, but the b.w. was not feeling too well so we hesitated here. After a day had to head for home and it was lucky we did. But all this is merely to build the background for one more comment. In Wenatchee and Seattle I noticed an interesting thing. And Kelowna people who spent the long week-end in Spokane said the same thing applied there. Every jewelry store was featuring costume jewelry of crowns, sceptre, orbs and other coronation regalia. Every book store was featuring books about the Coronation, Elizabeth, the royal family or British history. Women's clothes used coronation decorations and even men's socks sported crowns or lions or unicorns. Our friends south of the border are more coronation conscious than are we.

has learned, are the things which make a show run successfully and they have that.

We did get to see the new aluminum plant of which Wenatchee is so proud and we did get to see the Ohme Gardens. We had passed the latter probably a score of times and never stopped (too busy going somewhere or coming home) and I am glad that at last we have seen these gardens. It is worth a stop in the spring. What that man has done with a little water on a pile of rock! No intention of going into detail here but an hour spent here will be worthwhile, I can promise you that. The view is magnificent and the lawns and flowers and walks through shade and sun are good for the soul. I would have liked to have just sat and looked and rested and meditated the whole afternoon. My reaction to the gardens was something like I experience when I visit a fine, old church.

I returned from Wenatchee full

r.p.m.'s column

Well, Wenatchee, you have convinced me. For a dozen years now I have listened to your royal parties, your mayors and your chamber of commerce people tell about your apple blossom festival, the big parade—the 4th largest in the United States—and the "100 thousand people" who attend it.

I must confess that I discounted the statements thinking that they were just a little over emphasized in the justifiable spirit of home town enthusiasm. However, for a dozen years I have wanted to go down and see for myself, but each year something seemed to happen to prevent it. This year, however, I happened to be president of the Okanagan Cariboo Trail Association and as such was asked to the festival as an official guest. And we made it, the b.w. and I.

And I must say there was no reason for those suspicions of exaggeration which I had held against some of your Wenatchee people. I found they were telling the truth. I've seen a few parades in my day and I've seen a few crowds. When Wenatchee says that more than a hundred thousand people saw the Saturday morning parade and that it was six miles long, I'm not bat an eye, because I am sure they are minimizing rather than exaggerating the figures.

I had an excellent chance to see the crowd along the whole parade route. They were six and eight and ten deep along the whole route. They were standing and sitting in chairs, they were on ladders and perched on rooftops and on porches; they were everywhere one could see the parade. There certainly was a hundred thousand of them.

As for the parade itself, for my money it can be the fourth largest in the U.S. I know it took two hours and fifteen minutes to pass a given point; I timed it. Moving at three miles an hour, which I believe it did, it would be something more than six miles long.

Floats and bands and marchers floats and bands and marchers and so it went on. Floats with historical motifs and floats with flower gardens; floats of ships and floats of industrial plants; floats of butterfly trials and floats of moonbeams; floats of religion and floats of a circus; the Ogopogo from Kelowna and a Coronation float from Penticton; and so it went.

These floats are something to see. They were not only beautiful but for the most part showed a surprising ingenuity in getting across the message of the sponsoring community, club or firm. "Tulip Time" in Mt. Vernon, "Monitor Fruit, Yakima's 'Fruit Bowl', Quincy's before-and-after irrigation, Coulee Dam's power—these are but a few which come to mind. I remember, too, that one can't remember the name; was too busy looking at the effect which seemed to float along on the crest of waves or clouds. It was extremely well done, I thought.

Little places and big places had floats and little places did not take a back place to the big places. One little place—Entiat? Orondo? or some other—had only five girls in its senior class and so it received special permission for the five to be on the float. After all how could three be chosen out of five? The Apple company float again won the grand sweepstakes after a close run with the Aluminum company. I was told the Apple float cost $10,000. It will, of course, be used in other parades in Spokane, Portland and other cities. In keeping with centennial year, it depicted the arrival of a group of pioneers in a covered wagon complete with oxen, riders, dogs, cats and babies. It was a cellophane deal (may be checked up on the use of that word because cellophane can only be used to describe the particular product of a particular company and is copyrighted) and the figures were almost life-size. It was a magnificent float.

It must be recorded, too, that Kelowna was enthusiastically received by the Wenatchee people. A Kelowna car and later the Killie band preceding Lady-of-the-Lake Kathie Archibald and Ogopogo were given big hands. Kathie bears me out in the comment that when people read "Kelowna" on the signs, they commenced to applaud vigorously. Kelowna has a lot of good friends in Wenatchee apparently.

CROW CONTROL during the spring provides hunting thrills for this lad, as well as being a good protective measure for the more useful forms of wildlife. During the off-season, more and more experienced hunters, too, find that shooting gophers, groundhogs, magpies and other pests as well as the wily crow helps to keep their eye "sharp" for the fall hunting season. C-I-L makes dependable ammunition for this popular sport.

REVELSTOKE SPIKES 1, KELOWNA CHIEFS 2
In as classic a pitchers' duel seen here in many a year, the Kelowna Chiefs retained their unbeaten stature atop the B.C. Interior Baseball League by downing the hitherto undefeated Revelstoke Spikes 2-1 here Sunday. Up to game time both teams were tied for first place. Big Steve Melnichuk got better support from his fielders, which contributed considerably to the victory. Both of Kelowna's runs were earned, coming in the fifth inning when the visitors committed four costly bobbles.

Trundling marathon record set

What some experts believe to be a new provincial record for fivepin marathons was chalked up here Sunday by Bill Pearson, who completed the test of endurance with a total of 6565 for his 25 games. That works out to an average of 262.6, a record for the Bowladrome marathons and certainly the highest average heard of in these parts.

A consistent performer in the marathons, this was the first of the local one Pearson has won. Previous winners were Nick Keper, with an average of 256, and Hank LeVasser (last year) with an average of 258.56. Pearson was third last year with a total of 6241.

Closest to Pearson, a veteran former Vancouver bowler and a Kelownaite for the past five years, was "Jolting Joe" Mildenberg, who wound up with 6282 for an average of 251. Mildenberg's 375 single in his eighth game was tops. He made two other 300-plus games. Pearson bowled five games of 300 or better, the best one also coming in the eighth when he touched 371. He never went below the 200 mark in the nearly 8½ hours of continual bowling.

Pearson set the trend right at the beginning when he bowled 260 to take the lead. But at the end of three games Pearson, just going along steadily, was in fourth place, with John Verboon of Lumby leading with 777. Verboon ended fifth. By the end of six games, the bakery salesman was in the lead again and he never looked back. He had built up his margin to nearly 300 by the end of 12 games.

Scores of other bowlers in the top 10 bracket were: J. C. Genier, Lumby, 6173; Ed Turner, Kelowna, 6056; Verboon, 5835; Larry Woud, Kelowna, 5680; S. Kawaguchi, Vernon, 5597; "Ray" Rabone, Kelowna, 5691; Al Anderson, Kelowna, 5680; C. Kaneda, 5665.

Several rule changes were agreed to at the annual CAHA convention in Niagara Falls last week and will be included in the new rule book for the 1953-54 season.

Ads cling to narrow win at Kamloops

RUTLAND—Rutland Adnacs defeated the Kamloops Elks 6-5 at Kamloops Sunday afternoon. Going into the last of the ninth with the score 6-3 in their favor the Ads saw their lead almost slip away when the bases were loaded, after one was out, as the result of two errors and a walk.

A hit by Ash Mayson scored one runner, and with loaded bases pitcher Clare Sproule, obviously tiring, walked in a run to make the score 6-5.

At this juncture Sproule was retired in favor of Lloyd Duggan, who retired the side without further score. Kato popping out, to Stranaghan at first, and Prehara was thrown out at first for the final and game-saving out on a bounding ball to third baseman Joe Welder, who fired the ball to Stranaghan just as the potential tying run crossed the plate.

MAYSON HOMERS
The Kamloops team got a one run lead in the first frame, and led until the sixth when Rutland went ahead on a three-run spurge, on a hit, a walk and four Kamloops errors.

Al Swaine went six innings for the Elks, being replaced by Kate in the seventh. Both were victims of wobbly infield support. The long hit of the game was a homer by Ash Mayson, Elks shortstop, that went over the left field fence. The bases were empty at the time.

Jim Pratt, with three for five, was the best with the hickory for the Elks, while for the Ads, Tony Senger collected two hits and a walk in four trips to the plate, besides pulling off two spectacular catches in the fifth inning that cut off a battling rally by Kamloops. Sproule chucked a good game for the Adnacs, fanning eleven, and allowing only seven hits, but his control was not up to his best standard, as he allowed seven free passes to first.

The Kamloops team presented a real old-time appearance on the field with the pitcher, first baseman, Manager Sam Corea and some others on the team sporting beards of varying sizes, one a fiery red. This facial adornment is being cultivated in preparation for the Diamond Jubilee celebrations on June second.

BUCKLAND BEST HANDICAPPER IN SHIPPERS' GOLF

Three Kelowna golfers figured in the distribution of prizes when the twenty-third annual B.C. Fruit Shippers' Golf Tournament was run off two days last week in Penticton. The successful meet had the largest entry list on record, according to L. R. Stephens of Okanagan Federated Shippers' Association and one of the tourney officials.

Doug Buckland was the big Kelowna winner, copping the Pacific Mills Ltd. Trophy, the major handicap award. Buckland teamed up with George Wilson, also of Kelowna, to take the Canadian Industries Ltd. Trophy as well. It is the prize for winners of the nine-hole, four-ball foursome handicap. Third Kelowna winner was Mrs. Eve Lander. She won the rose bowl for ending with the ladies' low gross score.

Buckland and Wilson also garnered a runner-up prize in the Bonar Bemis Cup play (two-ball foursome handicap).

Honors for long hitting went to big Grant Bishop of Kelowna. His best ball was 263 yards and the aggregate of three 635 yards.

Open winner of the tourney was Russell Jordan of Penticton with Tom Ross of Vancouver the runner-up for the top award, the Westminster Paper Co. Trophy. Jordan also won the Pacific Coast Terminal Par Cup.

Facts and Figures Re Little League Baseball

(Editor's Note—In the belief that most readers, especially parents, are seriously interested in what Little League Baseball is, what its purposes are and how it is operated, the COURIER is publishing a series of excerpts direct from the official publication, "This Is Little League—1953.")

THIRD INSTALLMENT
Benefits To Communities and Boys
All Little League teams must be uniformed. The players take pride in the wearing of this uniform; they know that should they engage in malicious mischief, they would lose this privilege.

Little League makes no pretense of being a "cure-all" for juvenile delinquency. We do find that in communities where the program is established, the boys behave and make their towns better places in which to live.

The players, being in the formative years of their lives, are particularly susceptible to attention from adults. The managers and coaches of the teams set examples in conduct, sportsmanship and behavior which the players copy. The adults' character is infinitely more important than their knowledge of baseball.

CROWDS IMPRESS
The youngsters are impressed by the crowds composed of their parents, neighbors, perhaps police officers and school officials who attend the games. In fact, the interest demonstrated by the fans has a profound effect on the minds of the youthful players—there names are announced over loud speakers, box scores appear in the newspapers, together with the story of the game. This impresses the boys with the certainty that they are rather outstanding individuals in their communities and not "just another kid" hanging around a vacant lot wistfully hoping for a ball game.

As to the fans, we find that the Little League variety is different from those attending other baseball games. Just as the teams come from all sections of town and represent all walks of life, so do the fans.

Persons who ordinarily would have little in common meet in the bleachers and become acquainted through a mutual interest in youth. There is an appreciation that the players are indeed young. There is quick applause for a solid hit or a fine feat of fielding. There also is sympathy for the youngster who "muffs" one.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT
Men and women from the ranks of both management and labor sit side by side and in the course of a game their mutual concern for the players creates an understanding which extends far beyond the ball field.

Little League requires the support of the whole community. It is a jealous taskmaster. Manpower—and womanpower, too—is essential in every phase of operations. Service to Little League is tantamount to service to your community.

There are no financial rewards to the persons who contribute time and money to the movement. But the workers do see the results of their efforts in the form of youngsters who are developing into real Americans (Canadians).

TWO Decorative Hardboards Hit the Market!

Two interesting new PV Hardboard products are now introduced—
PV SQUARETEX and PV PLANK BOARD... to meet the demand for low-cost decorative boards, with an "expensive" look.

"SQUARETEX" is especially designed for ceilings although equally effective as feature walls. Made from ¾" unpainted Hardboard it is offered in 4' x 4' panels with half inch wide score lines forming squares in bold relief—either 12" x 12" or 16" x 16". Score lines run along two meeting edges to allow continuous matching of the effect.

"PLANK BOARD" made from ¾" PV Hardboard in unpainted panels 4'x8'. Precision-machined grooves run the length of the panel at either 8" or 10" centers to give the effect of planking. Grooves are so arranged at panel edges that when butted they continue the planking pattern.

Call in and see "Squaretex" and "Plank Board" on display. We'll be glad to quote you the low prices.

Heavy Fruit Crop Anticipated Judging by Blossoms on Trees

Apple Trees in Good Condition

FOLLOWING one of the mildest winters in several years, fruit trees appear to be in excellent condition, and judging from the heavy blossom, a fairly heavy crop is expected from both soft and stone fruits, according to the first crop report released by the provincial department of agriculture.

The open winter was ideal for orchard pruning, and many growers removed blocks of winter damaged, over-age or obsolete varieties of trees. Period for applying dormant sprays was longer than usual this spring, and this spray was used extensively. More orchards than usual are installing sprinkler irrigation systems this year, replacing the furrow system.

Apple trees appear in better condition this year than since the 1949-50 winter freeze, although the scars of that year are still evident.

Some concern was felt over lack of irrigation water due to the small amount of snow, but the situation has been relieved somewhat by recent showers.

There has been little frost damage, and this critical period is just about over.

Thousands of tomato plants have been set out in the South Okanagan. Early cucumbers have been planted under hot caps.

Following is the report by districts:

SALMON ARM-SORRENTO:

As reported May 11: The previous fall was exceptionally dry. The normal fall rains, which this area depends upon to soak the sub-soil did not occur. Consequently crops went into the winter in a very dry condition. Fortunately the winter was exceptionally mild so that the ground was in a receptive condition for all rains and snow. There was practically no run-off this spring. Every portion of the below normal snowfall entered the ground.

Although the snow disappeared earlier than usual the season at the present time is almost identical with last year. The cold frosty nights of April served to check growth of all trees and shrubs.

There is considerable interest being displayed by the potato growers in the use of chlordane and aldrin as soil amendments for control of tuber flea beetle. A species of black army cutworm reached epidemic proportions in parts of the district but is on the wane at time of writing. Considerable damage was done to the alfalfa crops but little if any damage was noted on other crops. Adequate control measures were obtained through use of DDT sprays.

ARMSTRONG, VERNON, OYAMA, WINFIELD AND OKANAGAN CENTRE:

As reported May 13: The season appears to be slightly ahead of 1952. All tree fruits came through this past winter in good shape and at present are making excellent growth. More pruning and general clean up work in orchards has been done this past season than previously. Many winter damaged trees ('49 freeze) have been removed and a considerable number of young trees have been planted replacing to some extent the previous winter's loss.

From present indications we can expect an overall increase in fruit production over last season with the exception of Newtons. Delicious, and Transcendent Crabs which appear to be quite spotty. Apricots in the Oyama and Okanagan Centre

W. I. MEMBERS HEAR REPORTS OF CONVENTION

WINFIELD—The district meeting of the South Okanagan-Similkameen Women's Institute was held in the Winfield Memorial Hall with 16 delegates from the district presenting reports. Mrs. Muford of Rutland presided over the meeting. Guest speakers were the president of the B.C.W.I. Mrs. Shaw and superintendent of the B.C. Women's Institute Mrs. S. E. Gummow. Mrs. Gummow stressed the one thing that is dear to everyone, that being peace in the world remedied by understanding each other in our own community. Joe. Billyeald, mental health co-ordinator for the district, gave an interesting talk on mental health in children with the with dinitro compounds was done, while this week hormone spray thinning of apples is being done.

SUMMERLAND, WESTBANK AND PEACHLAND:

As reported May 12: Following a mild winter with little snow, fruit trees have leafed out and are in good shape with less mouse damage than usual. Trees broke dormancy very early and for a while the 1953 season looked like a record early one. However, cooler days during late March and April delayed development so that at the time of writing we are about on a par with the average season.

Although very dry last fall, orchard soils picked up moisture through the winter months and were in better shape than expected by spring. Two light rains which fell earlier this month delighted gardeners and helped to conserve storage water by delaying the first irrigation on many lots.

With the exception of canneries apricots all tree fruits have shown a heavy bloom. At time of writing, McIntosh apples are just passing their peak of bloom with Delicious and Newtons at their best. This is the first year since 1950 that severe spring frosts have not nipped the blossoms. There is yet time for this to happen but the chances of killing frosts diminish as the days pass. With greater emphasis than ever being placed on better quality stone fruit, a number of peach bud thinning demonstrations were given in the district. There is also some interest in chemical thinning of prunes and although this is still experimental, a number of demonstration plots have been set up. Chemical thinning of apples is again being done on a large scale this year.

Many growers have applied "pink" sprays on pears and apples this year. The aim of these sprays is to clean up early infestations of clover mite and Red Mite and to protect the fruit from mildew attacks.

At Peachland and Westbank many thousands of tomato plants have been set out along with some cucumbers, these latter under hot caps.

PENTICTON, NARAMATA, KALEEN, KEREMEOS:

As reported May 12: The winter was extremely mild with a minimum temperature of 15 degrees at Penticton. Less snow than usual fell and potential supplies of irrigation water are not good. At one stage it was anticipated that one of the earliest springs on record would be experienced. However, variable weather with considerable cloud has persisted for the past two months.

Apples are just past full bloom. Blossom show on Winesap and Delicious was good, on McIntosh and Jonathan fairly good and on Newton very spotty. Present crop prospects point to a total yield similar to last year. Chemical thinning of apples has again been carried out extensively though no more than last year due to variable weather. The apricot bloom was spotty in some orchards but with few plantings coming into bearing it is possible that the crop will be equal to that of 1952. Peach and prune bloom was quite heavy and pear and cherry bloom was extremely heavy.

About four hundred acres will be planted to tomatoes in the Keremecos-Cawston area this year, an increase of about one hundred acres over 1952. Settling out of transplants was started nearly a month ago and is now well under way. With regard to pests and diseases, blister mite damage is beginning to show up in quite a few orchards while clover and two-spotted mite and peach aphid infestations are heavy in many places. Powdery mildew of apple on terminal growth is fairly general.

OKANAGAN FALLS, OLIVER AND OROUOOS:

As reported May 11: The 1952-53 winter was very mild with little moisture. Due to a fairly dry spring irrigation has been necessary somewhat earlier than usual for the area.

1953 has been one of the longest springs recorded in the past several years. Apricots were in bloom during the first week of April following a warm March. April, however, was quite cool so that apples were not in full bloom until the first week of May. A number of frosts occurred during this period but the damage done was not extensive. Nearly all trees showed a good bloom and the weather generally was good for pollination so that the set appears to be good. The exception to that may be pears where there appears to be a heavy drop started. At the moment, on this crop it is not possible to ascertain how extensive it will be. Considerable mechanical thinning of peaches and apricots with brushes, water, and hand thinning during bloom was tried this year and last week blossom thinning of apples showing of a few films. An entertainment program was presented with Mrs. E. Stowe singing a solo; Mrs. Grace Klassen, a piano selection, and Mrs. D. Reiswig, a monologue. A sextette also provided entertainment with Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Seibel, Mrs. Stowe, Mrs. Larson, Mrs. Reiswig and Mrs. Samchenko taking part. The Winfield Institute acted as hostesses with the assistance of Okanagan Centre.

Visitors at the V. R. McDonagh home last week were Mrs. McDonagh's sisters from Enderby, Mrs. A. Blackburn and Mrs. H. Bradshaw. Also visiting at the same time was their mother Mrs. T. W. Lidson, of Vernon.

Mrs. Jones spent the week-end in Penticton with her son.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Federation to the United Church met in the Church on Monday. The report of the Presbyterian convention held in Revelstoke was given by Mrs. Metcalfe.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sherit are spending a two-week holiday with relatives in Vancouver and Seattle, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Holtzki have as visitors, their daughter Mrs. H. F. Baycroft, and son Ronnie, of Smithers. Also recent visitor at the Holtzki home were Mrs. T. E. Saunders and baby son, of Penticton.

Sincere sympathy of the community is extended to John Hardin and daughters on their recent loss of wife and mother.

Mr. B. Bachmann is a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital.

A teacher's supper meeting was held at the school on Monday. Ladies of the P.T.A. did the catering and serving.

The Editor,

The Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,—Much misunderstanding and prejudice has been displayed with reference to the acceptance of the new revised standard version of the Bible. Personally we prefer the authorized. In childhood we learned many verses by heart, and later in college life, were obliged to quote whole passages for exams. However truth is truth, and in every age ignorance and prejudice have finally been forced to fall before its onward march.

Premier E. C. Manning seems to have lost all respect for the honesty and common sense of those who do not hold his untenable demand for verbal inspiration. What a passionate appeal to prejudice! It seems strange that one, whose knowledge of Hebrew and Greek is evidently nil, and whose theological training has not reached beyond the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute, should feel himself fit to cry out in holy anger, against some of the finest christian scholars of our day. To label devoted christian men as "Little Ph.D.'s" who think they can write a new Bible, is to belittle their personality and put to shame their loyal service for Christ and His church and is inexcusable.

To attempt to destroy confidence in your local minister by such statements as "your minister may accept this new standard version, but stand up and be counted" (on my side), is abominable.

This is carrying these Sunday broadcasts almost beyond endurance for some of us, who, with our wives, have suffered years of toil and hardship on these practices to build up the Kingdom of God in our Master's service, and to uphold the honor of His Church and its ministry.

We acknowledge this new translation as the most reliable text to-day "in our common tongue," a true witness to God's word and the sure guide to Christian faith and conduct.

The late Archbishop of Canterbury, William Temple, reminded us that God did not reveal words, but "God reveals himself." Faithful witnesses inspired of God, have "Behold the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ," and have in their own words and from the atmosphere and conditions of their own age, given to us the rich fruit of that divine revelation.

IN APPRECIATION

The Editor,
The Kelowna Courier;

Dear Sir,—Ever since 1923 I have suffered continually from a painful spine ailment which was treated by a variety of physio-therapist, chiropractors and physicians, but to no avail.

I have always been engaged in vigorous types of business—at present I own and manage an iron works industry in which good health is essential but this ailment had been gradually reducing me to the status of an invalid, which would have been my misfortune had I not, on the recommendation of a friend, consulted a masseur, as a last resort.

I first started taking treatments from Mr. S. Gustafson, in 1945. He gave me a thorough examination and found a growth in the centre of my spine in the vicinity opposite the heart and about half the size of an egg. After eighteen massage treatments this growth was completely broken up and finally eradicated. Today I can honestly say that my restoration to normal health is due solely to Mr. Gustafson.

I have had intimate talks with other patients who were equally afflicted with what Mr. Gustafson had done for them. And so, when I write as I now do, I know that I am expressing the uttered and unuttered thoughts of a large community of people in Kelowna and surrounding district who feel that Mr. Gustafson is a desirable person not only among the public at large but should also be accepted as such in professional circles as well.

What is ALTERNATIVE VOTING and how does it work?

Alternative voting, which will be used in the coming Provincial Election, permits the individual voter to continue to participate in the selection of candidates of his or her choice, until one candidate on the ballot is elected by an absolute majority vote, even should their favourite candidate be eliminated in prior counting.

To vote this way is simplicity itself . . . it is just a case of using the common numerals 1-2-3-4, or as far as you want to go up to the number of candidates listed on your ballot.

Beside the name of your first choice you mark the number 1 . . . then beside the name of your second choice mark 2 . . . beside the name of your third choice mark 3 . . . and so on.

If you "plump," which means, if you mark your ballot for only one candidate, your plumping does not give your favorite candidate one bit of advantage more than if you mark a choice for each of the others . . . there is nothing gained, but you do deprive yourself, should your first choice be eliminated, of your privilege to further express your wishes in the continued counting, which may be necessary in order to establish which candidate enjoys an absolute majority vote.

UNDER THE OLD FORM OF VOTING

There may have been two candidates who each ranked high in the choice of the voters in your riding.

At the same time there may have been a third candidate who was not desired by so many, but who received a goodly number of votes.

When the majority of voters divided their votes between the two most desired candidates, it frequently resulted in the election of the candidate who the majority of voters voted AGAINST . . . one who was desired by a minority of the voters.

UNDER ALTERNATIVE VOTING

You can vote for your favorite candidate . . . and then go beyond that . . . you can still have another choice . . . and even another, to the number of candidates on your ballot.

You can say to yourself . . . "If my first choice doesn't make it, then I want to vote for my second choice" . . . so that's just what you do . . . you vote 2 . . . and if that one doesn't make it, then your third choice enjoys your support . . . and so on.

The alternate ballot makes certain that no one is elected who is not supported by more voters than all of his competitors added together.

FITTED WITH NEW RUDDER

FOURTEEN TONS of steel suspended from the stern of the 10,000-ton Canadian Pacific freighter "Maplecove," is the new rudder which will guide the vessel in her trans-Pacific Orient service which she will resume May 25. The Maplecove lost her rudder and part of her stern-frame in mid-Pacific in December last year, and for nine days, with no steering control, battled heavy Pacific storms before reaching Port of Vancouver on December 27. Above, the ship is shown at Burrard Dry Dock, North Vancouver, where the new rudder and stern frame were installed.

JONES URGES ELIMINATION MEANS TEST

Elimination of the means test insofar as the war veterans' allowance act is concerned, was urged by O. L. Jones, M.P., during a recent debate in the House of Commons.

Mr. Jones pointed out that in receipt of war veterans' allowances are permitted to earn a certain sum of money. However, he cited one case where a veteran raised chickens to supplement his income. The chicken operations had been so successful that his income had risen to the point where it was above the limit. Result was he had to sell his chickens, and today he is doing nothing.

The local M.P. is quoted in Hansard as follows:
"I shall not take more than a moment in this discussion. I, too, would like to pay a compliment to the staff and personnel administering the Pension Act. I think that so far as British Columbia is concerned, they have received co-operation, and particularly from the Legion."

"While we are referring to the department, and its paternal interest in veterans affairs in general, may I say that I feel sometimes there is too great a stress laid upon the paternal angle in that they are apt to treat returned men as youngsters, children, or people to be cared for, and they are not left with that degree of freedom to which they are entitled."

"I refer to those in receipt of war veterans' allowances who are not permitted to earn more than a certain sum of money. The amount they are allowed to earn is so small that, in view of the high cost of living today—and this is particularly true in my province—these people are not living at a very high standard. I have a letter from one veteran who helped to supplement his pension by raising chickens. The other day he wrote to me saying that the chicken operations had been so prolific that his income had risen to the point where it was above the limit, with the result that he had to sell his chickens, and that today he is doing nothing. I would ask the minister to reconsider his decision and remove the means test from this particular pension."

"There is one other matter I should like to bring to the minister's attention. I have had one or two local cases which have been marginal in character where there has been some doubt as to whether the man had died as a result of service overseas. In one case the decision was quite doubtful; as a matter of fact I still feel that it was wrong. The result is that the widow and two children are receiving no pension. I am satisfied and the decision was made that in future greater consideration must be given to the power that they have to give the benefit of the doubt to a widow or to the orphaned children of a returned man. I ask the minister to listen to the plea of the returned men in general, particularly the Canadian Legion, in connection with the war veterans' allowance and their request that it be increased to $60 per month for single and $120 for married men."

In doing that I do believe he would be carrying out the wishes, not only of the returned men themselves but of the people of Canada who are anxious to pay their debt, who are willing to pay their debt and who are able to pay their debt to the men who defended them in time of need.

PRE-SCHOOLERS DENTAL SERVICE BEING PLANNED

Month of August will be spent rendering dental service to pre-school children in Penticton and to some students from other districts whose treatment was not completed earlier in the year, it was revealed in the dental director's report submitted to the quarterly meeting of the South Okanagan Health Unit held in Summerland.

The dental services are at present being made available in the Copper Mountain area of the Penticton School District where a high level of acceptance of treatment services has been experienced.

The report continued: "The fluoridation of public water supplies has been proved to be the most effective method of preventing dental caries which is the most widespread disease of civilized man."

NO BAD EFFECTS
"Fluoridation is reducing the incidence of dental caries by approximately 60 per cent in those communities which have had it installed. In the advised amounts it produces no adverse effects. It is advocated by all leading recognized health professional associations."

"Fluoridation is a procedure whereby a specified amount of the element fluorine is added to the community water supply. It is usually added by metering devices at the pumping stations in the established waterworks facilities. Estimation of costs of this procedure vary with different communities and their water distribution methods. It is only practicable on a community basis. Costs of installation and maintenance have been estimated for the Kelowna water system by the Health Branch."

"The advantages to be gained by the future citizens strongly warrant the implementation of fluoridation in the community water supplies of the South Okanagan Health Unit area. The main advantage will be greatly improved dental health of the future citizens, with the reduced cost of the remaining dental care, thereby giving an over-all economic saving and a legacy of fewer children requiring treatment for dental care."

EXTENSION OF DENTAL SERVICES

"Continuing representatives have been made to the health branch for consideration of extension of the preventive dental services to School District No. 77. The basic policy of the branch regarding treatment services is under review and it is considered that it would be advisable for this union board to reiterate its request for the extension."

Measles and Chicken Pox Prevalent in Okanagan During First Three Months

Measles and chicken-pox were prevalent throughout the South Okanagan during the first three months of the year, according to the quarterly report tendered by Dr. D. M. Black, director of South Okanagan Health Unit, at the meeting held recently in Summerland.

Total of 374 cases of measles were reported during the three-month period, while chicken-pox came next in the list of communicable diseases with a total of 237.

Ten cases of cancer were listed: 19 of conjunctivitis; one erysipelas; six gonorrhoea; 36 influenza; 29 mumps; three pneumonia; one polio; six rheumatic fever; 40 rubella; 39 scarlet fever; four septic sore throat and two syphilis.

All school medical examinations will be completed before the end of the school year, he said. Health of children is "very good" but numerous cases of minor defects such as dental caries and infected tonsils have been discovered and treatment recommended.

"Some children are found suffering from unsatisfactory environmental conditions in the home and we have endeavored to do what we could to assist in these problems through home visits, and in some cases, through the co-operation of the social welfare workers," he continued.

"It will be noted that the incidence of measles and chicken-pox was very high but fortunately most of the cases were mild and there were few complications. Measles immune serum was used extensively to give temporary protection to infants under two years of age and was very successful. There were also a considerable number of cases of scarlet fever which was also of a mild type. A press release was prepared urging all people who came in contact with scarlet fever or septic sore throat to consult their family physician and secure protective treatment with one of the antibiotic drugs. When this precaution is taken the irksome quarantine period can be safely omitted.

Tuberculosis control continues to be an important part of our work. The miniature chest X-ray machines in Kelowna and Penticton taken many films for screening purposes. Kelowna amended its restaurant, by-law to require an annual chest X-ray of all employees in eating establishments and Penticton is planning similar action. Nearly all teachers are now having annual X-rays. One phase of tuberculosis control which is steadily increasing and which means much added work for the nurses is the administration of streptomycin to patients who have been discharged from the sanatorium. This involves a visit once or twice a week to give an intramuscular injection. Our two sanatoriums have been very busy and report that sanitary conditions are satisfactory on the whole.

WATER SUPPLIES

Water supplies throughout the unit have been checked regularly and the monthly survey of the present and alternative sources of supply for the City of Kelowna is continuing. This will be completed this summer and we will be able to make recommendations to the City Council based on a knowledge of conditions over the whole year. Sewage disposal is generally satisfactory in most centres. Penticton has almost finished section five of their sewerage plan which will complete the area to be served by the present disposal plant. Restaurants have been checked regularly. It was necessary to recommend to the Kelowna City Council that one restaurant licence be suspended because required improvements had not been carried out. The necessary changes were made and the restaurant reopened after five days.

Meat inspection in the City of Kelowna has been continued. 302 carcasses were inspected and one carcass and 15 parts were condemned.

The annual inspection of school buildings is being carried out at present and all unsatisfactory con-

ARMY RECRUIT TEAM HERE MAY 22-24

A five-man army recruiting team is due in Kelowna May 22-24 seeking recruits for the expanding Canadian Army Active Force.

The team will explain advantages of service in the modern army and will seek prospective recruits to fill the ranks of units destined for service in Canada, Korea and Germany. Men they seek fall into two main categories—young men who are able to pass the stiff physical and educational requirements for entry into the army, and veterans of previous service now considering re-enlistment.

The tour of the Okanagan and the Kootenays includes stops in Kamloops, Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon, Armstrong, Enderby, Salmon Arm, Revelstoke, Siccan, Nelson, Trail, Grand Forks and Greenwood.

Heading the team is Lieut. Arnold Donald, of New Westminster, a World War II veteran with the Westminister Regiment and a Korean veteran with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

He had this to say about the trip: "We hope to meet young men who might otherwise not have the opportunity of learning what the army of today has to offer. We're looking for active, vigorous young Canadians for all arms of the service. When we meet them, we'll be able to fill in the details."

Others on the trip are: S/Sgt. R. H. Appleton, M.M., Melville, Sask., a member of the RPLCI's first battalion and a veteran of service in World War II with the Lake Superior Regiment and the Korean War with the Patricia's; Cpl. Bob Sobel, Vancouver; Cpl. J. I. Rockwell, RPLCI Calgary; and L/Cpl. A. Furness.

The team will establish headquarters in the army, and will be available to give the facts and figures to men seeking an army career.

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

By A. M. THOMPSON
(District Scoutmaster)

Many favorable comments were made on the smartness of the Boy Scouts during the recent visit of the Governor-General. The boys were a credit to their district and scouting in general.

On arrival at the inspection grounds, the Scouts were informed that they would have to take over first aid duty as it was understood that no one seemed to know where to find other first aid crews who were supposed to be on duty.

Six of the Scouts who had taken their ambulance proficiency badge, were told to look after anyone who needed first aid assistance, and there were many who received attention during the afternoon.

My thanks to the six boys who did such a grand job of first aid work and service to the district during the civic welcome of the Governor-General.

A request has been made from the corporation committee for 12 Boy Scouts to take part in the coronation pageant which will be presented in the Kelowna and District Memorial Arena.

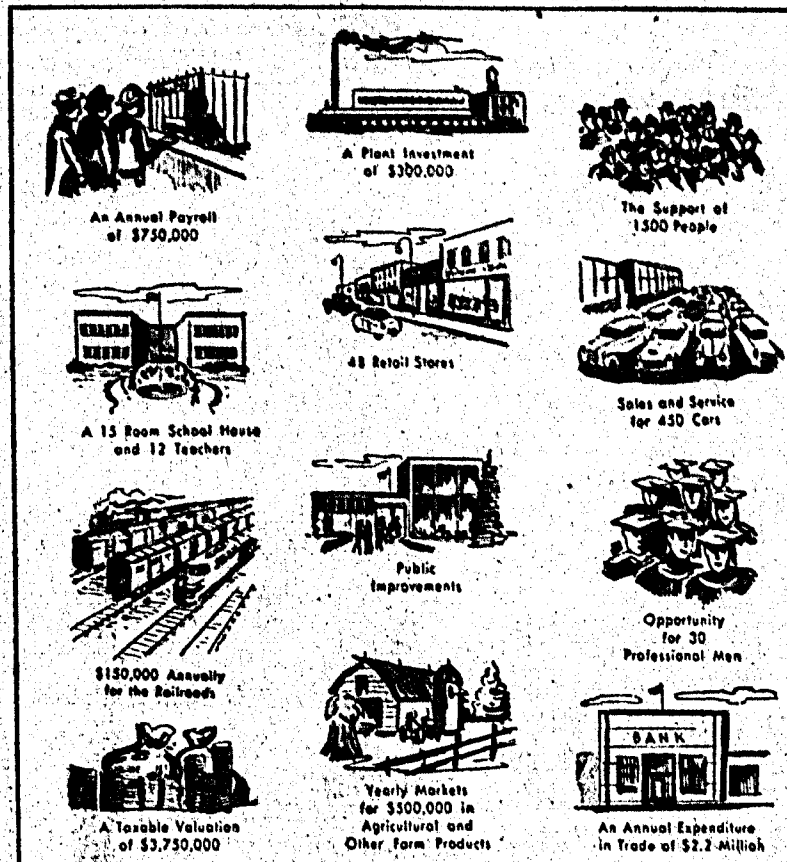

Arrangements have now been completed for the International Camporee to be held at Oroville during the week-end of May 22-23 and 24. It is expected that all districts will be represented.

Finally a few remarks to Troop Leaders, Scouters and Scouts regarding uniforms. Full uniform means a Scout hat, shirt, shorts, long stockings and neckerchief. All the above must be of regulation dress for Scouts as laid down in P.O.R.

Scouts should make a real effort to obtain a full uniform before Coronation Day June 2. I know you have to supply all of your own uniforms—but that is what Scouting tries to teach you—thrift, self-reliance, independence and to be self-supporting.

PHILIP GETS "INTO ACT" AT HORSE TRIALS

WHILE WITNESSING the International Olympic horse trials held recently at Badminton, Eng., the Duke of Edinburgh took time out to become a "participant" and not just a mere spectator. A crack horseman, he is seen here enjoying a canter on Badminton grounds with the Duke of Beaumont, who acted as host to Queen, Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and others members of the royal family during the three-day trials.

Hundreds Attend Local Industrial Exhibition And Automobile Display

HUNDREDS of Kelowna and district residents flocked to Memorial Arena for the annual three-day Industrial Exhibition and Auto Show which came to a successful conclusion Saturday night. Many exhibitors profited by the display, as more than one sold a unit the very first night.

From a viewer's point of view it was also gainworthy, presenting as it did an opportunity to examine new automobiles, boats, products and services.

Car ranged in prices from a small convertible at $1,495 to a 205 h.p. two-tone at $8,400, with plenty of in-between price tags to pick from.

Among the dealers represented were Victory Motors, Kelowna Motors, Ladd Garage, Reliable Motors, Smith Garage, Gil Mervyn, Pollock Motors, Lipsett Motors, Orchard City Motors, and Mission Creek Motors.

Such well-known names as Dodge, Hudson, Hillman, Chrysler, Plymouth, Buick, Vauxhall, Studebaker, Master, Lincoln, Ford, Monarch, Austin, Chevrolet, Consul, Oldsmobile, Morris and Willys were seen on display.

Many of these have acquired additional designations such as Regent Sedan, V8 Cornet, Mayfair, Minx Sedan, California Coupe, Super Jet Sedan, Velox, Oxford Sedan, A4 Somerset.

Exotic new colors, lavish upholstery, sleek, power-laden hoods, commanded the attention of those who attended. Potential buyers gave each car close scrutiny, compared luggage space, interior spaciousness, smartness of the respective dashboards and general eye appeal.

While new automobiles stole most of the spotlight, other exhibits were also noticed. Such as the wrought iron railing display, designed by A. H. DeMara and built by the Kelowna Machine Shop. There are now 140 sets in an area embracing Peachland, Kelowna, Salmon Arm, Revelstoke, and Kamloops. Industrially, it amounts to around $3,000 annually, and is sold by the lineal foot.

An oil painting of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, painted and presented to Kelowna and district Memorial by M. A. Van Hoff, Kelowna, drew respect and admiration at the west end of the arena. Patrons whose putting was sharp won cans of oil, key chains, balloons, at the novel Shell golf course display. Dave Lommer shattered all records by sinking eight putts in succession.

A new product, Fab-Spray, which puts new color back in fabrics was also displayed and demonstrated. It is not a tint, paint or dye, but a plastic-resin base, mineral pigment spray that bathes fabrics in a deeply penetrating color-mist, without altering the texture of the fabric. Furniture, rugs, draperies, awnings, auto interiors, and many other items may be magically altered by it.

Rowboats, inboards, sailboats, built by Kelowna Boat Works, were the centre of attraction with the nautical-minded. The application of fibre-glass drew many comments, numerous compliments regarding the workmanship also being heard.

LIFEGUARD BOAT

One boat, donated to the Kelowna Aquatic Club by the Ladies' Auxiliary, for lifeguard duty, came in for special mention. Members of the auxiliary were on hand, running a name-the-boat booth nearby.

Four-cycle air-cooled motors, as well as a one to power 100 aqua skiers were also greatly admired.

Hourly prizes were won by patrons who attended the three-day show. A nominal charge of twenty-five cents was made for adults, ten cents for children. In the past, children have damaged the finish of automobiles, soiled seats, and helped themselves to expensive literature. The general admission charge went to the purchase of many beautiful prizes, such as clocks, waffle irons, rugs, spotlights, table and chair sets and lamps.

Free movies were seen upstairs, the new daytime screen being provided by W. French Ltd. Films courtesy of the Kelowna Film Council. Cartoons, scene tours, and such exciting events as the Grey

The Passing Parade

By JACK SCOTT

BEAST SHOWING

Sometimes, as every woman knows, the beast in a man emerges over the most trivial thing. Take for example the way a friend of mine reacts when his wife chews gum.

You couldn't hope to find a more quiet, pleasant, even-tempered fellow than Ed. But the moment his wife's jaw starts working that way his eyes get all small and piggy and there's a deep-down meanness about him you just couldn't believe.

"Looks like it's milking time again, eh, Marge?" he'll say. Or, sometimes, "How are things in the dairy?"

When he first made such remarks, shortly after their marriage, Marge would protest and say that she liked to chew gum, just as he liked to smoke his stinking cigar.

But nowadays—and they're entering their 15th year in the ring—it almost seems as if Marge is doing it deliberately, as if to show her independence, or maybe she just enjoys getting him mad. You never know with wives.

She'll make a great show of taking the gum out of the wrapper, very precisely and with a slight smile on her face. Then she puts it in her mouth ever so daintily.

Sometimes she makes a little curtsy to Ed if he's in a bad mood. And then she starts chewing away with a languid, methodical sort of grinding motion that even gets ME a little edgy.

If Ed says anything she smiles and then she gets the gum sort of bunched up and chews it very rapidly with her front teeth, looking him right in the eye, and I've seen Ed then getting red at the back of his neck and watching his fingers clenching and unclenching.

There were two items in the paper the other day that got me thinking about Ed and Marge and the tiny wedges that can split a marriage as no thunderbolt ever could.

One of the items was about the divorce rate that's a 17.5 per cent increase over the same period of last year and apparently going up pretty steadily. Something is obviously breaking up a lot of homes.

Second item was about a fellow, name of Emile Scheermäcker, down in Woonsocket, Rhode Island, who got so tired of listening to a tuneless whistling sound his wife made that he hit her on the head with a clawhammer, ran the bathtub full of water and held her under until she would whistle no more—ever.

I found myself wondering how many of these divorces came right down to little things like the late Mrs. Scheermäcker's tuneless whistle or ashes spilled on a carpet or the way a woman holds a cigarette.

I have thought of this before when my wife is teeth-tapping. Taps her teeth with her pen when she's writing a letter. Drives me crazy. Sometimes I have to leave the room and bathe my wrists with cold water.

I suppose if there's ever a divorce in our family it will be because of this teeth-tapping or the way my wife says "calf's liver" and "adhesive."

I just can't understand it. She doesn't use the word "ad" in anything else. She doesn't say "lawf" for "laugh" or "bawf" for "bath." But everytime we're going to have calf's liver she calls "cawves" liver. Cawves' liver for Cripes' sake!

The first time I ever heard her say it I couldn't understand my reaction. I was infuriated. I went all cold inside. "What do you mean, cawves' liver?" I said petulantly. We had a terrible fight over it.

Same thing with "adhesive." She says "A-DEE-sive" and I say "Ad-HEE-sive" I try to keep calm; I

FINAL READING GIVEN TRADE LICENCE BYLAW

Final reading to Bylaw 1639, amending the Trade Licence Bylaw in respect to vending machines was given to City Council last week.

The bylaw stipulates that "every owner of an automatic vending machine or machines for sale of confections, stationery, stamps or goods of any kind or automatic vending machines for the vending of amusements of any kind, including weighing machines and machines vending music ('juke boxes')," will be required to pay a trade licence fee of $20 every six months.

The same by-law also prohibits the use of vending machines for the sale of cigarettes.

Since their inception as market places centuries ago, fairs have compiled an impressive list of contributions to better living—helping to chart new courses, new methods and better ways of living.

How long does an oil well last?

The average well goes dry in 20 to 30 years. To keep your car rolling and your home warm, a new well must be found to take its place. That's why the search for oil never ends; why Imperial, for instance, spent almost $50 millions to find and develop new oil in western Canada last year.

Oil has become one of Canada's important industries. How many of these questions about it can you answer?

Which of the following contain petroleum lipstick? binder twine? printing ink? insect spray?

Oil is a part of all the products named and of hundreds of others which contribute to our everyday living.

In 1946 Canada produced less than 10% of the oil she used. How much of her needs does she produce now 18%? 40%? 55%?

About 40%—and we use twice as much as in 1946. Today's production would meet 80% of the demand at that time.

How many service stations would you say Imperial operates across Canada 19,500? 10,000? 0?

None. Approximately 10,000 stations carry the Imperial Esso sign, but they are operated by independent dealers, each in business for himself.

In oil field language, a "roughneck" is one of the crew of a drilling rig. What is a "toolpusher" tool salesman? drilling foreman? motor mechanic?

Drilling foreman. Oil field slang is colorful. A "Christmas tree," for instance, is a combination of pipes and valves to regulate the flow of oil from a well.

Opinion surveys show that most Canadians believe a business is entitled to a profit of 15¢ on a dollar of revenue. Last year Imperial earned 7½¢? 11¢? 19¢?

In 1952 Imperial earned a profit of 7½¢ of each dollar received. Of this, 4¢ was paid to shareholders; the remaining 3½¢ was used to replace worn-out equipment and to make sure we can supply your future oil needs.

Can you rent money?

Of course you can! Money can be rented to individuals in the same way it is rented to government or business concerns. The same way you rent a home, a rowboat, or a bicycle.

Consumer finance companies are in business to rent money to help solve temporary money problems. The Canadian government, in turn, has established a maximum rental that may be charged to borrowers. The borrower is further protected by having the payments stated in his contract, and the amount he has to pay clearly understood.

Because Household Finance rents money to help people to help themselves, we have always charged the lowest possible rates consistent with sound business practice.

As a result, today we are Canada's largest consumer finance company, serving more men and women than any other company in our field.
